

Wales and England will get the 2015 Six Nations Championship underway with a Friday night match at the Millennium Stadium in Cardiff on 6th February. One of the fiercest and oldest rivalries in the competition – dating back over 130 years – this match is sure to produce an epic contest.

England beat Wales 29-18 in last season's corresponding fixture at Twickenham. That victory sealed England's first Triple Crown in 11 years. This season's encounter will have added spice due to the fact that England and Wales will be in the same pool at R

rugby World Cup

2015

later in the year. England and Wales have played a total of 125 matches against each other. England have the slight edge with 57 wins, whilst Wales have 56 wins. There have also been 12 drawn matches between the two sides.

Kick off at 8pm