

England and Scotland have been playing each other at rugby union since 1871 when Scotland beat England in the first ever rugby union international. A total of 135 matches have been played, with England having won 75 times, Scotland 42 times and eighteen matches have been drawn. We have to go back to 2008 for a Scotland victory in the Calcutta Cup.

This is Scotland's second and final home game of the campaign, the Kingfisher Bar will be rocking as we show the game live on the big screen. Come along and join us and enjoy a suitable beverage as you soak up the atmosphere, the bar will be open from 4.00 p.m.
